Piccadilly Circus to postpone Syracuse Event in preparation for potential Syracuse Crunch Playoff Games

SYRACUSE, NY – Management of the Piccadilly Circus announced today that they will postpone their event in Syracuse in anticipation of potential Syracuse Crunch playoff games. The circus was originally scheduled to perform in The Oncenter War Memorial Arena this Friday at 4:30pm and 7:30pm.

In working with the Syracuse Crunch, the Piccadilly Circus decided to postpone their event until this fall to ensure that The Oncenter War Memorial's ice is free and available for practice as well as potential playoff games over Memorial Weekend. They will reschedule for October 5, 2013. Tickets purchased for May 24th will be honored for the new date.

The Syracuse Crunch will face either the Providence Bruins or the Wilkes-Barre/Scranton Penguins in the Eastern Conference Final beginning on Sat., May 25. The Crunch advanced to the third round of the Calder Cup Playoffs, for the first time since the 1995-96 season, after completing a four-game sweep of the Springfield Falcons on Friday, May 17.

The Crunch's third round matchup will be determined after the Bruins host the Penguins in Game 7 of their Eastern Conference Semifinal series tonight, Wed., May 22. The winner of Game 7 will face the Crunch in the Eastern Conference Final. If Wilkes-Barre/Scranton defeats Providence this evening, they will challenge the Syracuse Crunch in the Eastern Conference finals, beginning Saturday, May 25th in The Oncenter War Memorial Arena. Playoff tickets can be purchased either in person at the Crunch Box Office located inside the War Memorial (720 S. State Street) or by calling the office at (315) 473-4444.

The Piccadilly Circus is #ALLin, supporting the Syracuse Crunch, and hopes to see you this fall in The Oncenter War Memorial Arena! For more information and tickets for this fall's circus, please visit www.thefuncircus.com.
